

Who's in Your Wallet: Rethinking Third Party Risks with Matt Stamper

Third-party risk remains a core governance challenge for most organizations. Regulations including HIPAA-HITECH, the EU's GDPR, among others require organizations to appropriately evaluate the risk of service providers and other third-parties. Unfortunately, current third-party risk management practices don't scale and require new approaches. Our panelist bring a broad, multi-disciplinary/multi-industry perspective on how to re-think third-party risk.
